MARSHALS - THE ANSWER TO HOSTING A SMOOTH EVENT!

"The marshalling staff provided to assist with our event were punctual, friendly, polite, helpful and professional. They engaged well with other event staff and with attendees too. Would definitely recommend!"

ENSURE YOUR CORONATION CELEBRATIONS RUN LIKE CLOCKWORK!

by Nichola Clydesdale

Frequently assumed to be security staff, any business which has ever used marshals for their event completely understands their value!

Equally, any company who has run an event which didn't quite go to plan might have wished that they had, given the valuable roles that any marshal does.

Not only do our marshals keep queues orderly and crowds in check, their assistance goes way beyond.

Our marshals will direct people to their seats at a sit-down event, advise where it's best to park, ensure anyone who requires disabled access or facilities knows where to go, and will even pick up litter during the less busy times!

In fact, a marshal is often the hidden 'gem' behind the scenes to ensure any event is stress free.

So, whether you're organising a street party for the locals or a larger scale Coronation celebration, ensure it runs like clockwork with a little help from Envisage Promotions.

"The marshals you provided were all excellent they were very helpful and nothing was a chore to them"

MAKE YOUR NEXT EVENT RUN SEAMLESSLY

by Nichola Clydesdale

If 2022 seemed to have been a busy year, 2023 promises to be even more busy, thanks to the many music festivals, busy exhibition calendar and of course the King's Coronation.

That's obviously music to many ears, and especially for those who are in the hospitality and events sector, but it can also come with it's own headaches!

In fact, it's believed that around 250,000 people left the hospitality sector during Autumn 2022, the highest since March 2020, leaving many companies short staffed with the dilemma of not being able to have staff in two places at once!

Ensuring guests and visitors are 100% satisfied is of primary importance at any event, so if your team is a bit thin on the ground, why not consider hiring temporary staff?

Experts in their field, our staff will ensure that your customers are always attended to, and as well as covering your hospitality and hostess requirements, our staff will also turn their hand to all manner of required jobs, making the outlay of employing them both highly attractive and equally cost effective.

So, if you're worrying that your next event might not run as smoothly as you'd hoped, or you're in need of extra pair of hands in 2023, be sure to give us a call!

NICHOLA'S TOP TIP FOR EASY EVENT MANAGEMENT

Hosting any event can be a costly exercise, especially if less people attend than you had budgeted for, so be sure to leave adequate time to market it properly.

And remember, help is always available too!

OUR STAFF ARE ALWAYS SMILING...

by Nichola Clydesdale

With just over a month to go until the Coronation of King Charles III, the events industry is eagerly looking forward to another busy Bank Holiday weekend.

It's hoped that like last year's Platinum Jubilee celebrations in June 2022, this May will be equally as lucrative, as the national comes together to celebrate this momentous occasion.

As such, the demand for temporary staff looks set to rise significantly, and especially for staff in the hospitality sector.

In fact, Envisage Promotions has already received a huge number of enquires and confirmed bookings for temporary hospitality staff to provide cover for some of the UK's leading hotels and restaurants, as many people have chosen to take advantage of the 'back to back' bank holidays, to maximise on their break away from their own place of work.

If this is a dilemma your business is facing, be sure to get in touch, as with over 30,000 staff on our books, we can supply temporary staff to provide cover for all manner of jobs, including hospitality staff who are guaranteed to be always smiling!

"Thank you for providing someone last minute. Hannah was absolutely amazing, she helped and listened throughout and was a real credit to us, securing a lot of leads over the two days. She had the confidence to hold a conversation, but also brought me into the conversation if she felt she needed the support.

Please do pass on our gratitude again.... definitely 5 stars!!"
